

Which Factor Has The Largest Impact On Happiness?

0.9292
Avg. Gdp Per Capita

0.6487
Avg. Health

0.6093
Avg. Social Support

0.4270
Avg. Freedom

0.2124
Avg. Generosity

0.1257
Avg. Government Trust

The gross domestic product (GDP) is a measure depicts the market value of all the final goods produced and sold in a specific time period by countries.
Out of the 6 factors that appeared on the data, the GDP score has the largest impact on the happiness score.

Continents Happiness Ranking

7.289
Australia

7.001
North America

6.194
Europe

5.866
South America

5.268
Asia

4.354
Africa

The following dashboard depicts the happiness distribution around the world, along with the extent of the impact different factors has on the happiness score. It is based on the 'Happiness and Corruption 2015-2020' dataset, which can be found in the following link:

<https://www.kaggle.com/datasets/elias-turk/world-happiness-based-on-cpi-20152020?resource=download>

